FIFA 12 Egyptian Pro League 1.0.Q: how to change the size of rectangle in front of imageview using 3rd party library I need to create a game screen which consists of 3 parts: UI background, a frame containing a logo, a rectangle of imageview with some content.

I just want to change the size of the rectangle and move it into the center of the screen (I have no problem of creating it in the center - just looking for an easy way to change the size of the rectangle). I have already made some progress with an xml layout and a FrameLayout (by using FrameLayout as the parent layout). But I need to change the size of the rectangle which is set as a background of the FrameLayout (not the size of the parent). Is there some other layout I have to use or some other way to do that? A: The FrameLayout which hosts the FrameLayout is likely fixed size. You could use a RelativeLayout and place a child of fixed size in the center. Make sure the relativelayout has an appropriate (not fill_parent) size. Fagbamigbe, Nigeria Fagbamigbe is a Local Government Area in Oyo State, Nigeria.
